Student subscriptions to business and economics publications

Reading business and economics publications is not a course requirement. However, it's an excellent way to deepen your knowledge and understanding of how the economy works, and it is strongly recommended. The following are subscription plans for students (at rates that are well below the regular prices). If you have any questions, call the numbers listed below or send me an e-mail at mrk@rci.rutgers.edu.

New York Times

You can either get 50% off the regular rate for delivery of the print edition to your residence (and get full access to the digital edition) – net cost about $2.50/week -- or subscribe to the digital edition only for $0.99 for the first four weeks and then 50% off the regular rate thereafter. For details and to subscribe, go to www.NYTimes.com/CollegeRate. Use your .edu email address for verification.

Wall Street Journal

Published Monday through Saturday. Subscription includes access to The Journal's website, wsj.com. You can choose one of the following plans: 15 weeks for $29.95; 26 weeks for $49.95; or 52 weeks for $99.95. Delivery is to your residence (dorm, house, apartment, etc.). You will be billed, and can pay by credit card. To subscribe, send the following details to me via e-mail at mrk@rci.rutgers.edu, and I will fax the order in to The Wall Street Journal:

- your name, and the address to which you want the paper delivered (include street, city, state, and zip)
- your month and year of graduation, and whether you're an undergraduate or graduate student
- your e-mail address, your phone number, and your major
- whether you want a subscription for 15, 26, or 52 weeks (for prices, see above)

Bloomberg Business Week

Published weekly (except for two double issues per year). Includes access to an online archive of the past 13 years. You can choose one of the following plans: 20 issues for $15, or 50 issues for $30. You will be billed. To subscribe, send the following details to me via e-mail at mrk@rci.rutgers.edu, and I will fax the order in to Business Week:

- your name, and the address to which you want the magazine delivered (include street, city, state, and zip – indicate whether this is your home address, or your address at RU)
- your e-mail address and your month and year of graduation
- whether you want a subscription for 20 issues ($15) or 50 issues ($30)

The Economist

Student subscriptions are 70-85% off the regular cover price: $20 for 12 weeks; $30 for 25 weeks; or $51 for 51 weeks. You can order your subscription online at www.Economist.com/Students/us.