Student subscriptions to economics and business publications

Reading business and economics publications is not a course requirement. However, it's an excellent way to deepen your knowledge and understanding of how the economy works. The following are subscription plans for students at rates well below the regular prices. If you have any questions, call the numbers listed below, or send me an e-mail at mrk@rci.rutgers.edu.

New York Times

Student subscriptions are 50% off the newsstand price. To get details or to sign up, you can do either of the following:

1. Log on to www.nytimes.com/student and search for both Rutgers and my name (Killingsworth, in case you didn't remember!)
2. Call 1-888-NYTCOLL

Wall Street Journal

Published Monday through Saturday. Subscription includes access to The Journal's website, wsj.com. You can choose one of the following plans: 15 weeks for $19.95; 26 weeks for $32.95; or 52 weeks for $59.95. Delivery is to your residence (dorm, house, apartment, etc.). The Saturday issue can be sent to a different address if necessary. You will be billed.

To subscribe, send the following details to me at mrk@rci.rutgers.edu, and I will fax the order in:

- your name, and the address to which you want the paper delivered (include street, city, state, and zip)
- your month and year of graduation, and whether you're an undergraduate or graduate student
- your e-mail address, your phone number, and your major
- the subscription plan you want (15 weeks for $19.95; 26 weeks for $32.95; or 52 weeks for $59.95)

Business Week

Published weekly (except for two double issues per year). Includes access to an online archive of the past 13 years. You can subscribe for either 20 issues for $19.97, or 51 issues for $29.97. You will be billed.
