

CALL FOR PAPERS: 2025 NBER-NSF Time Series Conference

Mark your Calendar!

The 2025 NBER-NSF Time Series Conference will be held Friday-Saturday, September 19-20, hosted by the Departments of Economics and Statistics at the Rutgers University. The conference will be in-person only. It will begin Friday morning and end Saturday afternoon.

The NBER-NSF Time Series Conference has long been the premier annual conference in time series; it is particularly noted for bridging econometrics and statistics. (See here.) It also features both applications and theory. Areas of application include, but are not limited to macroeconometrics, financial econometrics, climate econometrics, machine learning in time-series environments, etc.

Paper Submissions: Submit your paper (or extended abstract) in pdf format to nbernsf2025@gmail.com. The pdf attachment should be named as LastnameFirstname of the submitting author. For example, a paper submitted by Jane Doe would have filename DoeJane.pdf There will be both “regular” and “poster” sessions, with leading scholars in both.

Important Dates:

Submissions close May 15, 2025

Decision notifications by June 15, 2025

Registration opens June 1, 2025

Conference Website: Here.

Conference Venue: Rutgers University, New Brunswick, NJ, 08901. Hotel and lodging details to follow.

We look forward to your submission, and to welcoming you at Rutgers in September!

Please don't hesitate to direct inquiries to the Conference Administrator, Janet Budge, at budge@economics.rutgers.edu, or to one of the local conference organizers.

Local Organizers and Program Committee: Rong Chen, Yaqing Chen, Koulik Khamaru, Yuan Liao, Kenwin Maung, Norman Swanson, Han Xiao, Xiye Yang (all Rutgers University).

Generously Sponsored by:

Rutgers University Departments of Economics and Statistics

National Bureau of Economic Research

National Science Foundation